

JUNIOR CHAMPION: Denhams Beach's Ben Buckley shreds a wave at the Lakesea Classic at South Durras.

Stalwarts take out Lakesea

WAVESKIING

VETERANS Mark Spencer and Brett Titterton have taken out the 2009 Lakesea Classic at South Durras last weekend.

Spencer overcame the likes of 2002 world champion Dave Dinning, past winner Dale Randhal and a host of others such as Terry Ohem, Paul Norman and a resurgent Gerry Buckley to take out his first open win in the A grade event.

Spencer took out the win in front of wife Anna, his children and his parents, Another legend of the sport in Brett Titterton, in a dominating display, took out the B grade, beating Denhams Beach's Ben Buckley and other Eurobodalla surfers such as Brandon Small.

Buckley, however, was victorious in the junior division.

Durras turned it on for the whole weekend with possibly the best weather in the event's 22-year history.

The surf was at about three feet for most of the event and with high tide in the middle of the day, the bank behaved itself for the competition's duration.

A prize of two Kevlar paddles went to Batemans Bay rookie Lindsay Ragg, who, with Alan Syne, competed in his first ever tournament and has the Tabourie competition in May pencilled in already.